

Workforce Wellness

at Your Doorstep

Investments in human capital pay dividends.

Increasingly employees are seeking positions in companies with a strong corporate culture and robust benefits packages; finding ways to differentiate your organization is essential to attract and retain qualified staff.

Onsite clinics are one of the most desired benefits by employees because they signal a commitment to employee wellness.

What We Can Do

Now Vermont employers can easily and affordably bring high quality healthcare to their employees. Garnet offers more flexibility than a permanent onsite health clinic, and without the high overhead cost. We can come to you and your employees when you need us (1st, 2nd or 3rd shift), and however often you need us. In our mobile clinic, patients can address urgent care needs such as flu symptoms, receive annual physicals and vaccinations, have labs drawn, get behavioral health screenings, and more.
